

Oceanair is The Specialist Distributor for air conditioning products and whether you are a consulting engineer or installation company we are available to assist you at all times.

I hope that you find this 'pocket price list' useful—it is designed to give you easy access to the type of information you need to have to hand. For more extensive information and sales literature contact your Oceanair branch.

Whatever your requirement our staff are knowledgeable and friendly, but most importantly are on hand by telephone or in person to ensure a smooth, trouble free process; whatever your need – Oceanair can fulfil it.

Oceanair Distribution has been in business since 1999, situated in Horsham, to offer the Fujitsu brand, but since then has added the Sanyo range in 2001 and most recently the LG brand in 2006. Recently we made significant expansions into the West with the opening of our fully stocked branch and training centre in Bristol.

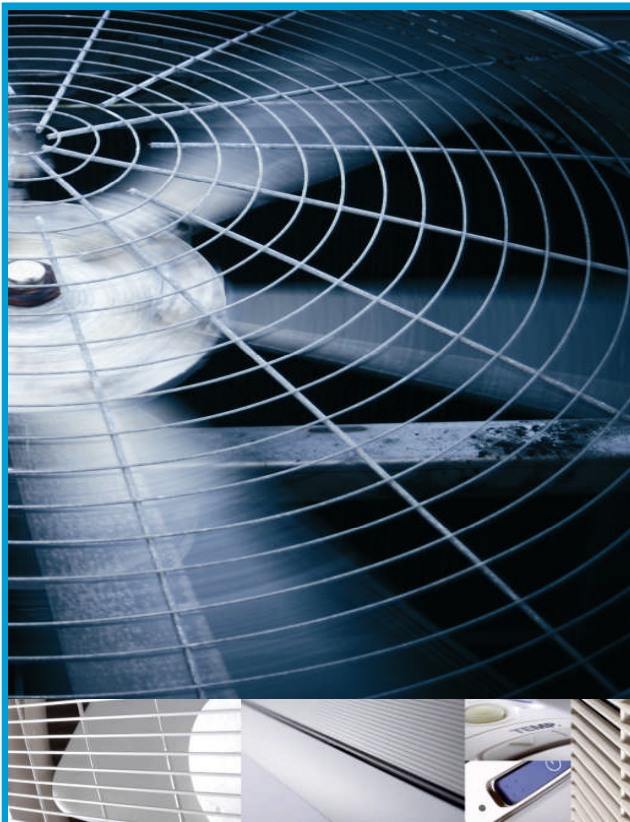

Our website is continually being updated to keep you informed of our activities. For more details on all our products and activities visit...
